The Missouri Southern Railroad Company and the Laclede Land & Improvement Company have refused to pay their taxes in Reynolds county for the past year. The reason assigned for the refusal is the excessive assessment made by the State Board of Equalization. The companies are willing to pay about half the amount assessed against them.

George Stark of Stark Farm, south of Arcadia, is in receipt of a letter from A. T. Edinger, superintendent, stating that his fancy sausage took second premium and his small sausage third premium at the Ham and Bacon Show which was held in Columbia last week; $9.00 cash goes with the awards, which is at the rate of $4.50 a lb. for the sausage. Mr. Stark also won a premium at the Ham and Bacon Show last year.

Says last week's Fredericktown Democrat-News: "Hundreds of men, women and children in Fredericktown and Madison county feel a sense of great personal loss in the death of Rev. L. H. Davis. Few men ever lived in the community who built for themselves such a place of love, respect and confidence. Southeast Missouri, while mourning the loss of this good man, feels itself richer in things spiritual for the touch of his life."

State authorities are notifying automobile owners that they must have their car registered with the secretary of state at Jefferson City before a license is issued for operating the car in 1922. The registration must be made before the license is issued and no person is allowed to run a car on the 1921 license after the last day of January, 1922, even if they have sent for a license. No "License Applied For" nor "License Lost" will conform to the new law.

Justice Sutherland on Monday concluded the preliminary hearing of Hubert Turley and Edward Porrier at Flat River charged with the murder of James Birchall, near Franklins, a few weeks ago and ordered them held without bond for trial by the St. Francois County Circuit Court. Their trial will occur at the February term. We have heard no criticism of the verdict. The father of the slain young man, who was sitting by his side, when he was shot, positively identified Turley as one of the two who attacked them and slew his son and said he believed Porrier was the other one.—Farmington News.

The Midco plant having sold under mortgage at Kansas City on December 31, there is now much discussion as to the likelihood of the plant resuming operations, but from all information obtainable there is but little prospect favorable to an early resumption of operation of such plant from the fact that the yard is already full of their product with no market to place it, and the freight rates are not favorable to shipment according to pending prices. The Larabee heirs purchased the plant, which leaves Mr. Busiek representative of affairs, and during a visit to the plant by him last week he informed parties they need not expect any operation at Midco for at least six months, if then.—Winona Democrat.

Hornersville correspondence in Kennett News: "J. E. Rice, former president of the Bank of Hornersville, has resigned his position with that institution and will probably take a much needed rest. A. J. Langdon, a pioneer farmer, stock grower and business man of this township, is now at the steering wheel as president. Mr. Langdon was the founder and promoter of this bank about twenty-seven years ago. He is, as all know, a successful business man and able to give good counsel to any who may wish to utilize the present and future opportunities which may come to us through the business channel, and help us to turn failure and defeat into success and victory. A. J. Langdon, Jr., is cashier; Mrs. G. A. Quinn, assistant cashier and bookkeeper."

The Postal Department has announced new regulations, effective February 1, for the handling of insured parcels. They will be delivered as registered mail—that is, a record will be made and the addressee will be required to sign a receipt when the parcel is delivered. Naturally this will slow up the service somewhat, for it requires time to sort and record the parcels, and the postmaster will appreciate having addresses, as well as return cards, plain and legible. All patrons are urged to write plainly, with ink, and place return address in upper left corner. Also have the surface large enough so that postage and other stamps can be placed on address side. By observing these simple rules you will help the Department handle your mail with speed and satisfaction.

Thirty years or more ago Al. Ross was the conductor on the Arcadia accommodation train that daily made the trip from the Valley to St. Louis and return. The following is taken from last week's Poplar Bluff Republican: "The many friends of Conductor A. B. Ross of the Missouri Pacific were alarmed last Tuesday morning on learning that the veteran conductor had been injured in a fall that morning at Hoxie. As related, Conductor Ross was stepping from his train, No. 2, when his foot slipped from the step and he fell. He was taken on through to the company hospital in St. Louis and at first it was feared that his injuries were serious but Wednesday evening it is said he was able to return to his home at Texarkana. Conductor Ross was among the earliest conductors on the main line of the Iron Mountain, now Missouri Pacific, and his friends are legion—all of whom will be glad to know that his injuries were not serious."

The St. Louis Fredericktown Taxicab line is now a thing of the past, the service having been suspended January 14th. Says the Fredericktown Democrat-News: "The suspension of the line came after the failure of the owner and manager, Carl Bess, to return to St. Louis following a trip to Chicago, Peoria and other Illinois towns. The line was instituted by Carl Bess several months ago and reliable sources credit it with having been a profitable undertaking from the beginning. Four fine Hupmobile passenger cars made a round trip daily to St. Louis, making all the lead belt towns on a regular schedule. Contracts were then made with the St. Louis daily papers for delivery service to the towns served and along with that an express service was instituted. The line was a great convenience and the people along the route will be sorry for its suspension, though there are several persons even now seriously considering reviving it. The financial affairs of the line seem to be in a somewhat tangled condition. The whereabouts of Bess are unknown, though he is thought to be in Chicago."

The State Income Tax must be paid by June 1st and is payable to B. P. Burnham, County Collector. Send the money to him, but send your return to me. Edward Wendell Post, No. 64, Ironton, Mo.

An interesting meeting of the Post was held last Wednesday night. Members should try and be on hand for every meeting.

We are going to try and organize a post band and would like to know the whereabouts of the old band instruments that could be used. Any one having any instruments on hand should communicate with Russell Times, Dr. Martin or Chas. Wendell, special committee.

Arrangements were made at the last meeting to provide refreshments at every meeting of the Post.

All ex-service men who have lost or discharged should apply to The Cross, St. Louis, Mo., for an application to the War Department for discharge. This will be necessary to receive the State Bonus.

The Supreme Court has held that bonus law is legal but that it will go into effect until February 17, 1922. After this date applications will be printed and distributed. The Edward Wendell Post, No. 64, will be a large supply of these applications to provide for the ex-service men from and in Iron County and will try to get all of such of whom we have the correct name and address.

The Attorney General has ruled that the claims must be paid in the order in which they are received and allowed; in other words "First come, first served". Therefore it will be necessary to file these claims at the earliest possible moment after February 17, 1922. On account of a possible shortage of several million dollars, in the Bonus Fund. The probabilities are fifteen million dollars will not cover all the claims that will be allowable. Now this Post will make arrangements to rush in the claims of all its members and other ex-service men who request an application. We will mail applications to those at a distance and those who live in the county will have to report at Post headquarters on a certain day that will be set aside for filling these out.

This paper to an ex-service man and request him to pass it on. If address is not on file at Post headquarters he should get it there as soon as possible. If you have received no communication from this Post, we haven't your name, so let us know from you now. There will be no charge for those who are slow in getting their applications in and having them filled out.

LOUIS R. MILLER, Post Commander.
